1 PROBLEM ONE

Question: Matt Smith: a great Doctor, or the greatest Doctor? Bonus: What about Jodie?

Answer: Matt Smith, while a great Doctor, is not the greatest Doctor in my opinion. The title of greatest Doctor belongs to David Tennant. My reasoning does not revolve around their actions, as all the Doctors have tremendous accomplishments, but is determined by their relationship with their companions. David Tennant had a more balanced and meaningful relationship with his companions while Matt Smith seemed to be out shined and placed in the background at times. Notably, River Song seemed to have the spotlight more when with Matt Smith. In respect to Jodie, I'm afraid I do not have enough information to make a strong argument on her reputation as a Doctor due to being behind on the show.
